I can't help but post this article about how a Japanese researcher figured out that he could pollinate pear trees using a bubble machine.

Soap Bubble Pollination https://www.cell.com/iscience/fulltext/S2589-0042\(20\)30373-430373-4)

My mind goes more towards: Whoa, bubbles are really a surfactant. What if we could get great foliar cover of beneficial microbes via a bubble machine?!

That's really where I want to head in the spray world. PTO mounted bubble machine. Hand held bubble machine. Bubble drone. This would bring everyone exponentially greater joy when spraying.
