Frost Protection - Orchard Alarm

Good morning, I am researching frost alarms for our orchard and am wondering if anyone has experience with one they'd like to share. I have found only one called WatchDog Frost Cellular Alert made by Spectrum Technologies. (<http://www.specmeters.com/weather-monitoring/environmental-meters/alarms-and-alerts/watchdog-frost-cellular-alert>) Has anyone had experience with this or other alarms that alert you through a cell service or similar system?

We are desperate to find something that is reliable and relatively easy to use. (We currently have an old alarm that is hard wired to a sensor, and it is not particularly accurate or easy to change the alarm-triggering temp.)

Any thoughts or experience you have on this issue would be most appreciated!
