A grower told me today how absolutely blown away he is by using our in-house search tool to look up a topic. As in any orchard-related topic. Here's how one can immediately gain perspective on forum contributions, articles in the biological curriculum, and even overlooked newsletter content. If a given subject has a holistic track record, hocus pocus, you are there.

All that's required is to go to any network website page, scroll to the bottom, find the friendly search box, and voila, make it so. I've said this before yet hoping now maybe more understand: The totality of holistic wisdom is truly at your fingertips.
